Christian Laux, Professor, Vienna University of Economics and Business

Christian Laux is Professor of Finance at the Department of Finance, Accounting and Statistics at WU (Vienna University of Economics and Business) and VGSF (Vienna Graduate School of Finance). He is also a Research Associate of the European Corporate Governance Institute (ECGI). Christian has broad research interests in financial regulation, corporate governance, and contract theory, applied to accounting and finance. In his recent work, he investigates the role of financial reporting for financial stability. He is on the Editorial Board of The Accounting Review and was a member of the Task Force of the Steering Committee of the European Systemic Risk Board (ESRB) on financial stability implications of the introduction of IFRS 9. His work has been published in, for example, the Journal of Accounting Research, The Accounting Review, Journal of Economic Perspectives, Management Science, Review of Finance, and RAND Journal of Economics. Christian held visiting positions at University of Chicago Booth School of Business, The Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, London School of Economics, and Harvard University. He earned his doctoral degree in Finance at the Goethe University Frankfurt and Habilitation at the Department of Economics at the University of Mannheim.